

SIGNALLING & TELECOMMUNICATIONS ENGINEER EAST COAST MAIN LINE

May I take this opportunity to welcome you to the new Signalling & Telecommunications InterCity East Coast Main Line organisation, the headquarters of which are located at Irving House, Newcastle-upon-Tyne. With effect from 6th April 1992, the S&T function within the ECML profit centre will manage the complete route from London Kings Cross to the Scottish border at Berwick.

As Signal and Telecommunications Engineer, it is my responsibility to lead and direct the function within the profit centre, and to achieve the laid down safety, quality, engineering, and financial objectives.

There are six principal assistants who have specific responsibilities for various parts of the function, and the following is by way of an introduction to the people and the support they provide.
